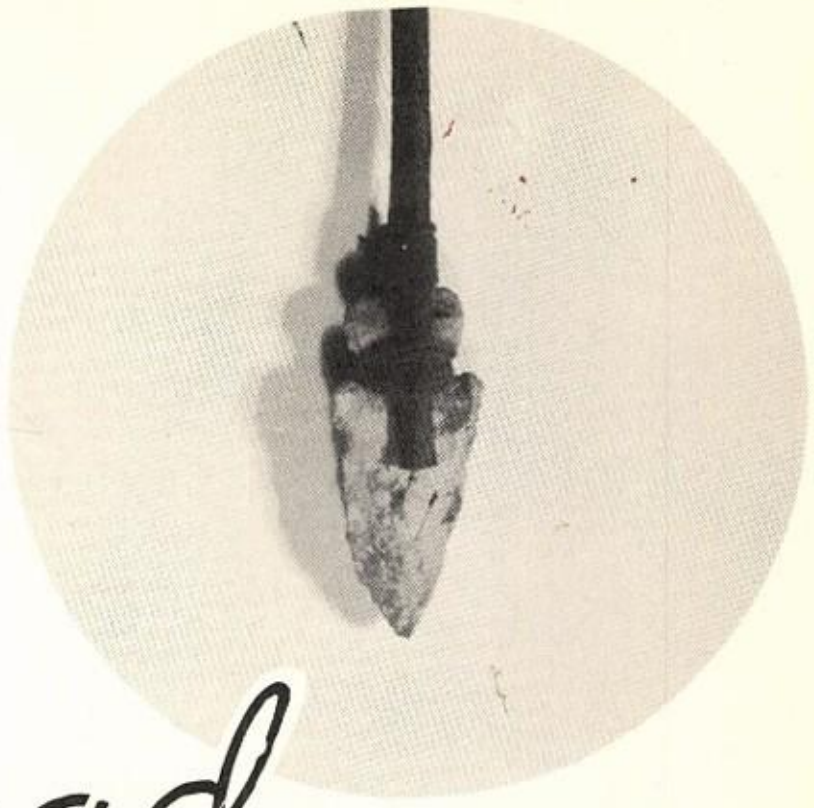
The Arrowhead



This year will be recorded in the archives of time as one of great significance in the history of the world. A war is not a pleasant subject for a theme; so instead of unpleasant memories, we, of the staff would like to present to you, the students of this institution of learning, an annual recording the brighter side of this school year.

Dedication

In this, the year nineteen hundred fifty one, the Arrowhead points to Democracy! Yes, the Staff for the Arrowhead for 1951 dedicates this issue not to a member of the faculty, who would be more than worthy of the dedication, but to an ideal that is foremost in our minds.

We, who are Americans, seldom stop to think of the wonderful things we have in this nation. We have freedoms unheard of in other nations; rights and privileges that are but dreams to other peoples of the other lands. In a time when our rights and freedoms are threatened, we feel it only fitting to dedicate this yearbook, as well as ourselves, to our way of life and to those who have made our nation the land of freedom and happiness that we enjoy.

Message From Our Superintendent

To the Student Body:

I wish to express my appreciation to the student body for the fine spirit of cooperation which has made our accomplishments of this school year possible.

I seem to admire youth most for its quality of faith--faith in themselves, in the goodness of God, and the controlling influence in your lives when life brings doubts and disappointments which are certain to come. Life always heals the wounds it brings and there is a great leveling force in the world whereby wrongs are righted. Success is bought at a great price; life is filled with greetings and good-byes. This gift of faith is priceless. All progress in science, all achievement in music, all religious beliefs and all foundations for the democratic way of life have been given to us because of the faith people had in themselves. Faith is the one sure cure for fear.

Sincerely yours,

Ray D. Brown

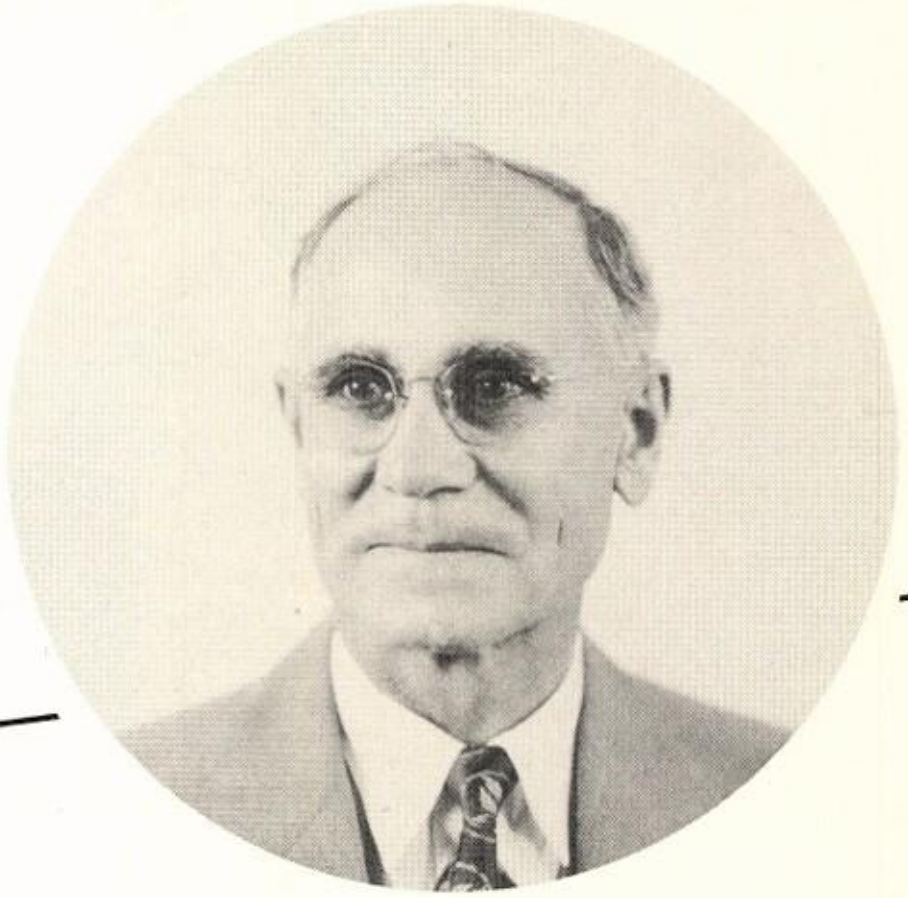
Message From Our Principal



Dear Students:

Your school is your community, of which you are a citizen. You have a part in determining its reputation. It can be as good or as bad as you wish it to be, depending on your conduct and effort.

It is our hope that your training here will be useful in your adult community life, in making your community a desirable place in which to live.

This Book is intended to be a reminder of many of your activities while you were in school. It will be grand if your behaviour has been such that in later years, a perusal of the pages of the ARROWHEAD will bring back proud memories of useful and well spent school days.

Very sincerely,

E. C. Brice
